

Wesley Biblical Seminary is accepting applications through September 30, 2022 for a full-time faculty position in New Testament. The position is open rank.

Successful appointees will be expected to teach 21 academic hours per year, potentially across all academic programs. In addition, successful appointees will be expected to serve on committees as assigned and facilitate educational programs through WBS's poly-synchronous platform.

Requirements

- A terminal degree in New Testament studies or a related discipline
- A clearly defined research agenda over the next 5 years
- Subscription to the institution's Statement of Faith and Ethos Statement
- A commitment to the tenets of the Wesleyan Holiness tradition, including an emphasis upon sanctification and holiness
- An ability to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels
- An ability to teach in a Poly-synchronous environment

Desired Qualifications

- Ministry experience, with a preference for activity in church leadership
- A history of pedagogical excellence
- An active research agenda with a history of quality publications
- A history of teaching in Poly-synchronous environments

Process of Application

- Fill out all the necessary Application Documents
- Submit the following documents to Andy Miller III, Vice President of Academic Affairs at amiller@wbs.edu
 - Cover letter articulating ability to fill the position
 - A CV with a list of at least 3 potential references (with contact information)
 - All application documents (filled out)
- For inquiries, please contact David B. Schreiner, Associate Dean, at dschreiner@wbs.edu

General Information

Wesley Biblical Seminary (www.wbs.edu) exists to educate and train men and women who, in fulfillment of the Church's mission, will live and proclaim Trinitarian faith, promote the Spirit-filled life, and in full commitment to the absolute authority of the Bible, actively make disciples of Jesus Christ.

Located in Ridgeland MS, the institution is a non-denominational institution rooted in the Wesleyan Holiness tradition and has been equipping students with the knowledge and skills to communicate the gospel to a world that needs a Savior for 45 years. Students graduate with hearts passionate about God's will, minds trained to understand God's word, and lives ready to serve in God's mission. Wesley Biblical Seminary and The College are rare institutions that affirm both the inerrancy of Scripture and the necessity of holy living for every Christian. In an increasingly pluralistic world, the Church needs leaders who are committed to the truth of Scripture and who can set an example with their lives.

The institution is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools, the Mississippi Commission on College Accreditation, and NC-SARA. It also holds Applicant Status with the Association of Biblical Higher Education.

The seminary also has approval from the Department of Defense and the State Approving Agency for qualifying military personnel (active duty and reserve) and veterans to receive educational funds from the Department of Defense and Veterans Administration. The Immigration and Naturalization Service of the United States Department of Justice (SEVIS/SEVP) recognizes Wesley Biblical Seminary as an educational center for international students. The seminary is a member of the National Association of Evangelicals.